The dog, accused of being a "public nuisance and menace," was brought to trial when 30 persons participated for its death. Two Catskill Men Held In Ulster for Burglary*Charge Is They Robbed Corbisello Company of Tools at Ashokan

Harold Post, 24, and his brother Foster Post, 19, of Catskill, who were recently discharged by Justice Ernest Schirmer of Saugerties for lack of sufficient evidence on value to hold them on a charge of stealing a compressor in the town of Saugerties, were arrested yesterday at Delhi where they were discharged from jail and returned to Ulster county to face a burglary charge.

They were arrested by Sergeant Arthur J. Reilly and Trooper Wood Rasmussen on a warrant which charges they are the men who entered the tool house and repair shop of the N. R. Corbisello construction company at Ashokan last September when tools and electric drills valued at some $800 were stolen.

The theft from the Quonset hut shop of the Corbisello company has been under investigation for some time. Sergeant Reilly stated during the investigation much of the missing property had been recovered. The company was constructing the new Oneonta Trail route.

Taken before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush of the town of Ulster, the Post brothers were represented by attorney N. Joseph Friedman of Catskill. A hearing was demanded and Justice Bush held the two in $5,000 bail each for a hearing Thursday at 4 p. m. In default of bail they were committed to jail.

The Post brothers were arrested Tuesday when they were released from the Delhi jail where they had been held under a charge of having been connected with the Grand Gorge garage. That charge will be heard by the Ulster county grand jury later.

Grand View Sold

The Grand View Hotel, just off Rock Road, town of Hunter and one of the largest in that area, has been sold by the owner-builder, Isaac Gordon of New York, to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Liebovitz, formerly operators of the Westholm, Stamford, resort hotel. Former Zurich, Switzerland, residents, the Liebovitzes have already made plans for a banner season at this resort.

El Zaim Seizes Control

Cairo, March 30 (UPI)—Diplomatic circles said today Gen. Hosny El Zaim, commander-in-chief of the Syrian Army, has seized the government of Syria and proclaimed himself dictator. The sources said El Zaim, in a broadcast over the Damascus radio, announced the country is under martial law. The broadcast was quoted as saying the general sprang a coup d'état to "rid the country of certain elements who do not act in Syria's interests." It described him as not seeking a cabinet post for himself. There was no word of what happened to President Shukri Al Kuwati and Prime Minister Khaled Bay Azem, who also is minister of defense.

Ziakowski Is Held

New York, March 30 (UPI)—Fredrick Burwick, 60, a restaurant worker, and Joseph Ziakowski, 65, a watchmaker, had been friends ever since youth in their native town of Minsk, Russia. Today, Ziakowski, who suffered from cancer of the stomach, is dead, and Burwick is charged with aiding and abetting his friend's suicide. Police found Ziakowski in his room yesterday, a bullet hole in his head. Later they arrested Burwick, who was quoted as saying: "I gave him the gun. I could not bear any more to see him suffer. I thought it was the only human thing to do."

'Peace Conference' Tour Is Seen Faltering; Russians Out

Newark, N. J., March 30 (UPI)—Stripped of its Russian star attractions by State Department action, projected nationwide tour of "world peace conference" delegations faltered today.

The State Department ruling in effect told 19 Iron Curtain visitors to go home, now that they have completed their mission to last week-end's Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace in New York.

Despite the decision, Author Millard Lampell said last night "this tour will go on." Lampell acted as master of ceremonies at the first of the proposed series of

$100,000 Fire Hits Catskill

Catskill, N. Y., March 30 (UPI)—Fire today destroyed two mercantile buildings at an estimated loss of $100,000.

Flames swept through the three-story Klugo furniture store building and the adjoining two-story Greenberg news room-stationery store in Main street, diagonally across from the court house.

For more than an hour the fire raged out of control in the two wooden structures. All four of Catskill's volunteer fire-fighting companies were called out. Several firemen were treated for smoke inhalation.

Henry Van Loan, manager of Klugo's, said the fire started in the basement of the store. He said he believed it was due to an over-heated furnace, which had been kindled this morning after being idle for several mild days.

Smoke damage was reported by the Catskill National Bank, next to the Greenberg news room building, and the Catskill Savings Bank and Tanners National Bank, just north of the furniture store. The banks are of brick and stone construction.

For a time firemen feared the blaze would spread to three wooden buildings 20 feet back of the furniture store. They said the brick veneer facing, with its paper constituent, probably prevented the flames from breaking through the rear of the structure.

The furniture store was one of four operated by a corporation headed by Frank Klugo of Hudson. The others are in Hudson, Saugerties and Elmira.

The $100,000 damage estimate was made by firemen. It included a $40,000 loss in destroyed furniture, estimated by Van Loan.

Strike Is Authorized

New York, March 30 (UPI)—C.I.O. beer truck drivers and brewery workers have authorized their union leaders to call a strike Friday against 14 major breweries here in a contract dispute. The C.I.O. International Brewery Workers said last night the men had voted 4,497 to 478 to empower their union's joint executive board to call the strike if negotiations fail. The board said the strike would affect 7,000 workers. The strike vote was taken yesterday.

U. S. Buys Butter

Washington, March 30 (UPI)—The government is buying butter to bolster prices for the first time since before the war. The Agriculture Department said yesterday 25,620 pounds of grade A butter was bought at the support price of 59 cents a pound last week.

Feinberg Ends Senate Work

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (UPI)—Benjamin F. Feinberg, Plattsburgh Republican, today concludes a six-year term as majority leader of the Senate to accept a $17,500-a-year appointment as chairman of the Public Service Commission.

The way was paved last night for Feinberg's nomination when Maurice C. Burritt, acting P.S.C. chairman for two months, announced his retirement effective tomorrow. Burritt, 65, has been a member of the commission since 1939. His home is in Hilton, Monroe county.

Governor Dewey is scheduled to nominate Feinberg during the closing hours of the 1949 legislative session to permit his Senate associates to make a quick confirmation before final adjournment.

By Senate procedure, the chairman of finance committee, Arthur H. Wicks, Kingston Republican, will become acting majority leader. It is reported reliably that election of a permanent leader will not take place until the beginning of the next regular legislative session, in January, 1950.

Several senators already are unannounced candidates for the Republican leadership. Westchester county Republicans are reported supporting Pliny W. Williamson, who represents that county but practices law in New York city.

Adjourns at 4 PM
Long Session to End

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (UPI)—The Legislature passed unanimously today a resolution setting final adjournment at 4 p. m. to-day.

The 172nd session is the longest since 1942 when the Houses adjourned on April 24.

Senate and Assembly clocks will be stopped at 4 o'clock, but both Houses will continue grinding out legislation until calendar days are cleared.

De Gaulle Asks French Arms Under Treaty

Paris, March 30 (UPI)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle wants the United States to arm France at once as the principal defender of western Europe under the North Atlantic Pact.

Allied strategy designates the Rhine as the first line of defense against attack from the east, he told a news conference yesterday, but that line will be manned principally by Frenchmen, at least at the beginning if there is a fight.

It would be "a grave mistake" to designate Britain as West Europe's chief defender, the general asserted.

For one thing, he said, another conquest of France and bombardment and reinvision to liberate her, would destroy the country both morally and physically.

He demanded that the United States promptly make definite strategic commitments in the event of attack on West Europe, and stick to a schedule of armaments to the French.

Rather cryptically, and without further explanation, de Gaulle hailed the North Atlantic treaty as a stride toward a federation of Europe which might seek cooperation with Russia in unification of the continent, even if that might mean a change in the Russian regime. He did not explain how he thought such a change might come about.

De Gaulle, who led the Free French movement during most of World War II, heads the Rightist political party, Rally of the French People (R.P.F.). The R.P.F. in elections on the last two Sundays emerged as the country's strongest single party, but a minority in comparison with the three-party bloc which makes up Premier Henri Queuille's government.

The general spoke at a time when the western powers were moving to strengthen the framework of the North Atlantic Pact. The Norwegian Parliament by vote of 130 to 13 yesterday authorized its government to join the pact. Only Communists and two labor representatives voted "no." Norway will sign in Washington April 4.

Meanwhile, western allied representatives are converging on Washington where the Atlantic Pact will be signed next week. They are expected to discuss proposals also to create an alliance of Mediterranean nations backed by the Atlantic Pact signers. They are believed certain to explore, too, the feasibility of sponsoring a Pacific alliance as another bulwark against Communism's spread.

Russian U.N. Delegate Says 'No' to Queries on Topics

New York, March 30 (UPI)—A group of volatile western European foreign ministers arrived today aboard the big liner Queen Mary to sign the North Atlantic Pact. Also aboard was Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, still saying "no."

More than 500 pickets marched near the pier in noisy protest of Britain's policy toward Israel—their greeting to British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. He was one of four foreign officials who will sign the pact in Washington next week.

Gromyko, who arrived to attend the United Nations assembly, had "no predictions" on what would transpire there. He answered "no comment" to reporters' other questions.

Other foreign office chiefs were Belgian Premier and Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, Dutch Foreign Minister D. U. Stikker, and Luxembourg Foreign Minister Joseph Bech.

The pickets, representing the Joint Committee to Combat Anti-Semitism, protested Bevin's alleged "anti-semitic statements" and "hostile policy to Israel." They carried placards and stamped and shouted.

Democrats Also Lose In Assembly

Measure Creates State System of Payments to Workers to Pay for Loss of Wages

Statement Issued

Mayor Newkirk, Yerry Assail Democrats for Their Opposition

Statements attacking opposition to an unemployment insurance law before the state legislature, providing for sickness and disability payments, were obtained today from Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and George E. Yerry, Jr., president of the Ulster County District Council of Carpenters and business agent of the Metal Trades Council.

Mayor Newkirk said: "The bill should be passed so that a member unemployed should not lose his unemployment insurance due to illness. As the law reads now a man must be available for employment to collect unemployment insurance. As I understand this new bill, it will pay unemployment insurance to one who becomes ill during an unemployment period. I wholeheartedly endorse this bill."

Democrats Lose AFL

Yerry's statement said: "Those senators and assemblymen who are opposing the passage of the unemployment insurance law that provides for sickness and disability payments, need not expect any support from the American Federation of Labor Unions this fall. It is my understanding that the Democratic party as such is opposing the passage of this measure."

Senate G.O.P. Is Solid

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (UPI)—Senate Republicans guaranteed Governor Dewey final victory today on his sickness-disability insurance program.

The G.O.P. majority agreed unanimously in conference to support the measure, slated to run into solid Democratic opposition when it is called for a vote later in the day during the closing hours of the legislative session.

Dewey scored a clean cut triumph last night in the Assembly. There, majority Republicans trampled solid Democratic opposition to pass the bill, 85 to 59.

One Republican, Assemblyman Otto M. Brees, of Endicott, joined the Democratic dissenters.

The measure, a key proposal in Dewey's legislative program, projects the state into a new field of social insurance.

It creates a state-administered system of benefit payments to workers to compensate them for loss of wages caused by illness or injury not connected with their work.

The program is to be financed by employer and employee contributions, the latter not to exceed 30 cents a week.

Republicans beat down, by straight party vote, efforts by minority Democrats to substitute their own measure for the administration bill.

The Democratic proposal called for financing costs of the program by use of rebates from the state unemployment insurance fund given employers in the form of tax credits. It would have exempt employees from contributing to the sickness fund.

During hour-long debate, Assemblyman William E. Clancy, Queens Democrat, contended the administration bill offered insurance companies a "bonanza" of profit and was drawn by "those opposed to sickness disability insurance."

The bill was supported by the State Federation of Labor, AFL, which helped draft it. The State C.I.O. opposed it, contending all costs should be paid by employers.

The Dewey-backed measure provides that employee contributions be made through payroll deductions of one half of one percent of weekly wages with a ceiling of 30 cents a week. Employers

Churchill to Take Part in Conference On Peace, Plenty

Cambridge, Mass., March 30.—Winston Churchill is due tomorrow to trade ideas with leaders of the western world on this question of the century—what chance has modern man for peace and plenty?

The man who commanded Britain's war effort as prime minister will join some of the world's foremost thinkers in a broad study of what science can mean to the future of humanity.

The study will take the form of three days of meetings at Massachusetts Institute of Technology with the theme—"The international mid-century convection on the social implications of scientific progress."

Internationally-famed statesmen, educators and philosophers will bring to six panel discussions their views of man's spiritual and material needs in an atomic era.

Churchill speaks tomorrow night at Boston Garden where 13,000 seats have been reserved for M.I.T. alumni and guests. His speech comes at 9 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on NBC, ABC, Mutual Radio Networks and tele-

Her French Dressing Is Now on Market

Mrs. Annette C. Page of 105 Pearl street has filed with the county clerk a certificate stating she is doing business in the city of Kingston under the name and style of Nettie Page's French Dressing.

About two years ago Mrs. Page decided to share with some of her Kingston friends a receipt for French dressing which had won favor with her family. It the annual fair of the First Dutch Reformed Church, Mrs. Page donated several bottles of the dressing and its fine flavor met with instant reception and the small stock was quickly sold out.

Demands came from local people for more of the dressing and during the past year Mrs. Page has been doing an ever-increasing business. As a result of the local demand from friends she has engaged in the business on a commercial basis and is now putting the product on the market.

Minasian's Market is the first local market to stock the dressing which is now being put out in its own distinctive bottle and under the Nettie Page label. In addition to local distribution, a distributor for New England is now engaged.

Milk Plan to Be Used

Washington, March 30 (AP)—A new, simplified plan for determining producer prices for so-called "surplus" milk supplied the metropolitan New York marketing area will become effective Friday. The Agriculture Department said yesterday that more than two-thirds of the participating dairymen had approved the change in a recent mail referendum. About 45,000 dairymen will be affected. For pricing purposes, the new plan puts into two classes all milk delivered to the market in excess of consumer demands for fluid milk and cream.

Proposal Shows Strength

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—A proposal to create a commission to study possible off-track participation in New York state showed surprising strength today and headed toward Senate approval. Most legislative leaders had given the measure little chance. But the Assembly approved it unanimously last night. The bill rode through in a campaign sparked by J. Russel Sprague, Nassau county Republican leader, and one of Governor Dewey's top political advisers. Sponsors of the bill estimate the off-track betting would bring the state $100,000 annually in new tax revenue.

'TITOISM' WORRIES THE KREMLIN

There's trouble in the proletarian paradise. Earl Browder, ousted leader of the American Communists, has been taking some pokes at the party's present leadership in a series of pamphlets. The Daily Workers, official C.P. organ, has been punching back. Other groups, purged by the party for "infantile leftism" and similar crimes, have joined the handbill war of words.

The squabble in itself is important only to the squabblers. And we mention it simply because it may be a symptom of the general disagreement that seems to be upsetting the sternly disciplined household of world communism.

Mr. Browder incurred the wrath of the party faithful with a pamphlet on "Chinese Lessons for American Marxists." In it he pointed out the material difficulties that Chinese Communists face in trying to bring about socialist economic reforms in that backward, war-torn country. He told how Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai, China's two top Reds, had met those difficulties by repudiating Marxist dogmatism.

He also quoted from a book on China by Anna Louise Strong, the American who was recently kicked out of Russia on charges of espionage and subversive activity. And it seems that the Soviet watchdogs had found some serious "errors" in her book that Mr. Browder quoted.

These "errors" apparently consisted of accurate reporting, for the same story has been told by objective, non-Communist correspondents. Miss Strong explained Mao's theory that a Communist dictatorship in China would have to be built on an agrarian rather than an industrial base, and that private capitalism would have to be tolerated and developed until the country was ready for socialism.

Now, all these things are symptoms of Titoism. The Yugoslav dictator, who claims to be a better Marxist than Stalin or anybody else, is also a realist. He saw that the communization of his country presented some special problems, and he insisted on solving them in his own way.

Yugoslavia apparently is a country of proud, patriotic people. And the small farmers who are largely responsible for feeding the nation seem to be rugged individualists. So Tito has been reluctant to submerge the Yugoslavs with the rest of the neutral, voiceless crowd of satellites. And he has gone about solving his particular economic problems, including collectivizing agriculture, as he thinks best.

This, of course, the Kremlin cannot endure. It is not because Lenin and Stalin always followed Marx's blueprint, either. Their methods have been as flexible as their problems have been varied. Lenin even reverted to a limited system of private ownership and profits for a time in the early days.

But this was in Russia, where everything is under the thumbs of the ruling clique. Outside the Soviet Union, independent action by Communists might lead to independence of thought. That is why Titoism evidently has the Kremlin worried. Not only is it infecting the Maos and the Strongs and the Browders. It is also succeeding, in spite of Moscow's so-far bloodless efforts to blockade and boycott Tito into submission.

Could the seers who say that the Democrats in Congress are hopelessly split be the same prophets who said last year that the party was too involved in factional warfare to have a chance in the election?

ANSWER TO THE BOMB

In a little-noticed talk not long ago, Rear Admiral Lamont Pugh, assistant chief of the Navy Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, predicted that a way will be found to immunize the body against the deadly radiation which is an after effect of an atomic explosion.

It seems unbelievable that such a thing could be done. Yet would it be any more strange than the mysterious rays themselves?

It has long been an axiom of military science that for every new weapon which is

MOSTLY NAMES

I have been asked for the names of the Hollywood "unfriendly witnesses" who are accused of being in contempt of the Congress of the United States: They are:

Membership in the Communist Party is claimed for them by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. This was not denied, but the "unfriendly witnesses" maintained that they would not answer the question as to whether they are Communists. The following is a list of persons associated with the theatre and the motion picture industry, published in New York newspapers on March 24, as sponsors of the cultural and scientific conference for world peace—that is, the Soviet conference held at the Waldorf-Astoria, Carnegie Hall, and Madison Square Garden. This conference was an agency of Soviet Russia's war weapon of propaganda as peace as a means of harming the United States:

Howard Bay, Herbert J. Biberman, Henry Blankfort, Michael Blankfort, Marc Blitzstein, Milton Brand, J. Edward Bromberg, Morris Carnovsky, Edward Chodorov, Jerome Chodorov, Lester Cole, Aaron Copland, Norman Corwin, Jules Dassin, Edward Dmytryk, Paul Draper, Arnaud D'Usseau, Guy Endore, Jose Ferrer, Will Geer, Jack Gilford, Dashiel Hammett, Lillian Hellman, Judy Holliday, Leo T. Hurwitz, Howard Koch, Millard Lampell, John Lardner, Ring Lardner, Jr., John Howard Lawson, Joseph Losey, Albert Maltz, Arthur Miller, Clifford Odets, Aubrey Farley, Wallingford Riegger, Harold Rome, Alexander Sartorius, Budd Schulberg, Rattle Shaw, Herman Shumlin, Gale Sondergaard, Donald Ogden Stewart, Paul Strand, Dalton Trumbo, Fredi Washington, Charles Weidman, Martin Wolfson, William Wyler.

Of the current plays on Broadway, the following names of those associated with them appeared as sponsors of the "peace" meeting:

Jaclyn Brando, actress in "Mister Roberts," Marlon Brando, actor in "A Streetcar Named Desire," J. Edward Bromberg, actor in "The Big Knife," Lee J. Cobb, actor in "Death of a Salesman," Jose Ferrer, actor in "The Silver Whistle," Judy Holliday, actress in "Born Yesterday," Kim Hunter, actress in "A Streetcar Named Desire," Garson Kanin, playwright of "Born Yesterday," Arthur Kennedy, actor in "Death of a Salesman," Arthur Miller, playwright of "Death of a Salesman," Clifford Odets, playwright of "The Big Knife," Sam Wanamaker, actor in and director of "Goodbye, My Fancy."

The press was not disgraced by a large representation among these sponsors. Maybe I missed some in calling the list. It will be noted that few of these names are of working newspapermen:

Louis Adamic, Victor Bernstein, Joseph Bralin, Kyle Crichton (Collier's Weekly), Albert Deutsch (New York Post and Home News), Olin Downes (N. Y. Times), Howard Fast (Daily Worker), Joseph Gaer, Arthur Gaeth (radio commentator), Dashiel Hammett ("Whodunit" writer—"Fat Man," "Thin Man," "Sam Spade"), Albert E. Kahn, Millard Lampell, John Lardner (Newsweek), Ring Lardner, Jr., Emil Lengyel, Kenneth Leslie (The Protestant), A. B. Magill, Dr. Clyde R. Miller, Michael Rukeyser, Agnes Smedley, Louis Untermeyer, Dr. J. Raymond Walsh, T. O. Thackrey, publisher ("New York Post and Home News"), addressed the conference. Norman Cousins, editor of the "Saturday Review of Literature," defended the United States amid hisses and boos at the Waldorf-Astoria dinner.

This conference was clearly a Soviet-designed weapon for the invasion of the United States. In modern warfare, these weapons are employed, the atom bomb, biological and chemical warfare, and propaganda. Soviet Russia's use of propaganda as a weapon is designed to destroy the will and the self-respect of a people. That was the intent and purpose of this meeting. The Americans who sponsored it should be known to our people.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

If you are of middle age and ask your family physician about what should be your normal blood pressure, he likely would tell you about 135 systolic (that is, when it is being pumped out of the heart), and about 90 diastolic (when heart is receiving blood). If asked what would be considered high blood pressure, you would be told that 180 systolic and 100 diastolic would be high blood pressure.

While having high blood pressure is considered serious because it often is the forerunner of heart stroke (coronary thrombosis) and brain stroke (apoplexy), it is gratifying to know that high blood pressure appears not to be dangerous in many cases.

In the "New England Journal of Medicine," Boston, Dr. A. M. Burgess points out that there are two kinds of high blood pressure—one the dangerous or malignant type, and the other the non-progressive or non-dangerous type.

With the view of finding out just what happens in this slow or non-progressive type of high blood pressure, Dr. Burgess' patients were chosen in whom high blood pressure had existed for at least eight years. In a group of 100 patients reported, a systolic pressure of 180 or a diastolic pressure of 100 was considered high or excessive blood pressure.

It was found that high blood pressure—even of an excessive degree that has been present eight years or more and where there is no heart or kidney disease present—usually does not show a poor progress. The patient's life span is nearly as long (perhaps three years less) than if his blood pressure were normal. This type of blood pressure does not usually develop into the malignant or dangerous type—that is, where there are eye changes, swelling of the feet or damage to kidneys. These are the symptoms present in the malignant type.

The suggestion, then, is that where the high blood pressure is of the slow or unprogressive type, there is not the need for surgical operation now used to lengthen the life span in the malignant or dangerous type of high blood pressure.

devised, a defensive device also will be found. The atomic bomb seems to us to be the strangest and most terrible weapon which ever was made, yet there is really no reason to believe that it will defy this old law of warfare.

The immunization hinted at by Admiral Pugh may or may not be the answer to the bomb, but someday there will be an answer. That is something to remember, when tempted to believe either that the bomb makes us safe forever or that it will inevitably destroy the world.

At least we are spared something. The latest word is that atomic power will not be suitable for automobiles. Think what some of our road kings could do with an atomic car.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington — Top American scientists held a private meeting with Secretary of Defense Forrestal shortly before he left office to urge that he publish the full facts regarding the Bikini bomb test—so far withheld from the public.

The House recently rejected a sales tax for the district by a vote of 178 to 166. However, Congressman Smith and his cohorts are keeping at it.

The scientists included Dr. Harold Urey of the University of Chicago, one of the originators of the A-bomb; Dr. Karl Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. David Bradley, author of "No Place to Hide," and W. T. Holliday, president of Standard Oil of Ohio.

Forrestal listened sympathetically, told the scientists that final Bikini report was on President Truman's desk waiting for him to start living up to House rules in the conduct of Veterans Committee meetings.

This left the matter entirely up to Truman. So after the Forrestal meeting was over, the scientists conferred among themselves as to what they should do about the President.

"It would be most unwise for us to bring any pressure on him," urged Dr. Compton of M.I.T. "Because if you push him, he will just get angry and spiteful and will set off even permitting debate."

Regrettably, the other scientists agreed that this was right. Any pressure on Truman to publish the Bikini report would probably make him stubborn, they decided, so they did nothing. Meanwhile, facts which Russian scientists already know about the way the A-bomb makes warships almost a thing of the past, remain a secret from the American people.

Note—Congressional leaders make a similar complaint about Truman. The best way to keep a man in office, they have found, is to show him up as inefficient, following which a perpetual job with Truman is almost guaranteed.

Real Estate Lobby Agains

Behind the current drive for a sales tax in the District of Columbia, Georgia, Indiana and other states is none other than our old friend—the real-estate lobby.

Big realty operators, fearing of a boost in property taxes, as well as state income taxes, think they can head this off with a sales tax on consumers.

This is one of the reasons back ever been a Jap collaborationist, he answered no.

"If Abello had ever been in prison or anything like that," replied Ely, "we would know about it."

Abello himself was somewhat more frank—after being faced with the evidence. He admitted that he had been jailed for four months by General MacArthur as a collaborationist. He further admitted that he had been secretary to Jose Laurel, the infamous puppet ruler, put in power by the Japs.

Abello was also given an opportunity to read a U. S. Army counter-intelligence report which described him as "untrustworthy and willing collaborationist" whose "influence and responsibilities have increased under the Japs" but who are in reality words directed by another government operated before and during World War 2.

The fact that European Communists have publicly stated that, in case of war, they would not fight to defend their own countries but would give aid and comfort to enemy troops has made it difficult for the average man to distinguish between a truly disinterested and a truly evil.

Now, however, another element—another fear—has crept into the situation. Hitler taught the world how to organize a "fifth column." The American Communists and the British, French and Italian followers of the party line have convinced their fellow citizens that the arguments made are not those of a particular philosophy but are in reality words dictated by another government operated before and during World War 2.

"All they had on me was general statements. They never were able to prove anything except that I was Laurel's secretary. There were two classes of what you call collaborationists—those who aided the Japs and those who just worked for the puppet government."

Since arriving in the U. S. A., however, Abello has been making speeches telling how "we" put up a heroic defense against the Japs, and has been urging American investments in the Philippines. Speaking before the Export Managers Club of New York last winter, he said:

"The devastation in our country, the wrecked condition of our national economy are due to our heroic defense of your interests as well as ours and because we stood in the way of the vandals who stalked the world to destroy the United States."

Stalingrad Hero Heads Soviet Zone

Moscow, March 30 (AP)—Army Gen. Vassily I. Chuikov, war-time hero of Stalingrad and Lublin, became military governor of the Soviet Zone of Germany today, succeeding Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky.

Sokolovsky was promoted to principal assistant to the new minister of Soviet Armed Forces Marshal M. Vasilevsky. Chuikov's appointment also was a promotion.

Announcement of the changes, like others in the continuing shakeup of top level Soviet officials, gave no explanation of the reasons.

Chuikov commanded the 62nd army division in the defense of Stalingrad from September, 1942, to February, 1943. He participated also in the capture of Lublin, Poland, from the Germans.

His new title is commander-in-chief of Soviet occupation troops and head of Soviet military administration in Germany.

Chuikov to succeed Marshal Vasiliy D. Sokolovsky as military governor of the Soviet Zone of Germany touched off conflicting speculation in the western zones today.

Does the switch mean the Russians plan to get tougher? Do they intend to ease off, possibly to the extent of lifting the blockade of Berlin in some sort of agreement with the west?

Everybody has an answer, but the answers don't agree. And nobody knows whether his idea is correct. The Russians, as usual, just aren't telling what they plan.

Sokolovsky has been a stubborn opponent of the west. He opposed compromises, and has followed the Communist Party line without a publicly noted deviation.

Westerners here don't know much about the new Russian commander, Gen. Chuikov. He has had prior experience in Germany. The Russians have indicated they plan to set up an east German government, and credit an ambassador to it. In that event, diplomatic negotiations with the westerners would be in civilian hands.

Charges Are Preferred Against General Bissell

Frankfurt, Germany, March 30 (AP)—Charges of an unspecified nature have been preferred against Maj. Gen. Clayton L. Bissell, headquarters of the U. S. Air Force in Europe announced today.

The announcement said the charges are being investigated to determine whether they warrant a trial by court martial.

It added the charges concern acts allegedly committed while Bissell was military and air attaché at the United States Embassy in London from May, 1946, to July, 1948. Air Force officials declined to say what the charges were. Bissell is at Wiesbaden.

The Air Force announced in Washington last August 14 that anonymous letters charging Bissell with "unauthorized transactions" had led to an investigation.

Tornado Kills Two In Oklahoma Area

(By The Associated Press)

A tornado struck communities in North Central Oklahoma early today, killing at least two persons, injuring several others and causing heavy damage.

The twister first hit Cantor, a community of 1,200, about 75 miles northwest of Oklahoma City. The tornado moved northeastward and struck Longdale, a town of about 400, and ripped through the south part of Blackwell, a city of 12,000.

A low pressure area which centered near the stricken section moved northeastward. Thunderstorms were reported throughout Oklahoma, Southeast Kansas, Missouri and Texas. Rain was forecast for most of the North Central States by tonight.

More snow fell in the Central Rockies, western plains and some North Central States today. There was six inches of snow on the ground at North Platte, Neb., three inches at Denver and Cheyenne, Wyo., and two inches at Pueblo, Colo. The snow belt covered Colorado, Eastern Wyoming, Western Kansas and Nebraska, Southern South Dakota, Southwestern Minnesota and Northwestern Iowa. Temperatures in the area were around freezing. The lowest reading again today was at Butte, Mont., where the mercury dropped to six degrees above zero.

Mild weather continued in the Eastern and Southern States but temperatures were on the chilly side throughout the western half of the country.

Bank Vault Theft Brings Order for Arrest of Man

New York, March 30 (AP)—A branch bank vault has been stripped of $690,000 in cash and bonds and an alarm is out for an assistant manager who suddenly disappeared.

A 13-state grand larceny alarm was sent out yesterday for Richard H. Crowe, 41, a popular civic and charitable worker.

Crowe returned to work a week ago at the National City Bank's branch at 195 Broadway after being treated for a nervous breakdown.

The branch bank where Crowe was assistant manager is missing $190,000 in cash and $500,000 in bonds—some of them negotiable. Police Lieut. Grover C. Brown, said.

Crowe's wife, Honore, reported him missing from their Staten Island home yesterday afternoon. She told police he had not been home since Sunday noon.

Crowe did not report for work yesterday; James J. McNamee, assistant vice-president of the bank, said. The vault was found open and empty when the branch opened for business, McNamee said.

McNamee told Mrs. Crowe told him her husband left a note at home saying he was bound for Buffalo, N. Y., on business.

Crowe lived with his wife and three small children in an 11-room beachfront home. Neighbors said the Crowes lived comfortably but not lavishly.

The missing man started with the bank as a messenger boy in 1930. He is a graduate of Nazareth Hill Military Academy, Nazareth, Pa., and the University of Miami in Florida.

Cooperage Plant's Work Is Stopped

A work stoppage at the plant of American Cooperage, Inc., 35 Bruyn avenue, has been in effect since Monday. It was learned today.

Twelve employees of the local plant were reported out as the apparent result of a dispute which was said to have started about three weeks ago at the concern's Milltown, N. J. plant.

The local men are members of Local 18 Coopers International Union. It was reported at the plant that they left their jobs Monday morning and have remained out since then. The factory, it was said, has not been operating at full quota of employees.

The stoppage has continued, to date, without picketing.

Predicts Minor Recessions

Winter Haven, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Economist Roger Babson predicts minor recession from now until 1950, and offers this advice to business men: Prepare for competition, buy on a hand-to-mouth basis, keep expenses down, keep out of debt, and store cash. Babson sold a civic club yesterday that the recession will be less severe than the one in the early thirties because there are too many cushions—subsidy pensions, government mortgages, high bank deposits, and rental ceilings.

May Attend Funeral

New York, March 30 (AP)—Judith Coplon, 26-year-old Department of Justice employee under indictment in a spy case, has been given Federal Court permission to go to New Jersey today for her father's funeral. Services will be held in Rochelle Park, N. J., for Samuel M. Coplon, 69, of Brooklyn, who died yesterday. U. S. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan signed an order yesterday permitting Miss Coplon to leave the Federal Southern District of New York to attend the funeral. She is free in $20,000 bail here and cannot leave her district without court permission.

Fairbanks Gets Anglo Knighthood

Hollywood, March 30 (AP)—Old Doug Fairbanks' boy is going to be knighted by the king of England.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., was notified yesterday that he had been made an honorary knight commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire for his work in Anglo-American relations and for his chairman-ship of CARE.

"I'm just about speechless," said the 39-year-old actor shortly after he was notified of the award, "probably unprecedented for any American in the acting profession. He said he was "taken completely by surprise" by the joint notification from the British consulate here and in London.

"It's a tremendously fine gesture," declared young Doug. "I am only representing the feelings of the average American in the work I have been doing."

He plans to go to Buckingham Palace to receive the knighthood in formal ceremony in late spring or early summer.

Besides his CARE post, Fairbanks is vice president of the United Nations Association in this country. He has been prominent in various civilian diplomatic missions, starting with duty as special envoy for the late President Roosevelt.

During the early years of the war he served with Lord Mountbatten's commandos, and later duties as commander in U. S. Navy Destroyer Forces brought him many honors. Medals he has already received: The British Gallantry Award, French Legion of Honor and Croix de Guerre with Palms, the Italian Cross of Valor, and the American Silver Star and Legion of Merit. Now knighthood, which has come to only a handful of Americans, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, General Winthrop Aldrich among them.

But it won't be Sir Douglas. That's for Britons only.

U. S. Reds Called On at Outset to Kill Democracy

New York, March 30 (AP)—American Communists are committed to forcible overthrow of the U. S. government by the first sentence of their party constitution, according to testimony at the Communist conspiracy trial.

The sentence reads:

"The Communist Party of the United States is a political party of the American working class, basing itself upon the principles of scientific Socialism, Marxism-Leninism."

Louis F. Budenz, former high-ranking official, testified yesterday that the specified "principles" mean that the party is "basically committed" to the overthrow of the government by violence.

This brought a flurry of objections by defense attorneys.

Eugene Dennis, party general secretary and one of the defendants, declared:

"No traitor, no Judas could interpret the principles of Marxist-Leninism. The witness cannot speak for any Communists and especially not for these defendants. No one would ask Benedict Arnold to interpret the Constitution of the United States."

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina ruled Budenz's interpretations were permissible, since he was formerly a high party official.

Budenz has renounced the party, and now is Fordham University economics professor.

He testified that parts of the Communist Constitution pledging support of the U. S. Constitution are "merely window dressing" and "null and void in effect."

Budenz said that shortly after the Hitler-Stalin pact in 1939, American Communist leaders got orders to "go underground and foment civil war if the U. S. entered the war on the side of Britain."

He said the orders were given by Dennis at a secret meeting in the basement of a Chicago building.

The government introduced a report by the party's labor secretary, John B. Williamson, a defendant, directing party workers to center post-war recruiting efforts on veterans and labor union members.

Judge William J. Byrne ordered her confined yesterday after a Santa Monica rest home physician reported she had slashed her wrists. Previously she had been treated three times for overdoses of sleeping tablets. Mrs. Watson, a "lady in black" who annually visited the tomb of Rudolph Valentino, reportedly received in 1934 a $20,000 divorce settlement from Baron Rupprecht von Bocklin. Later she was awarded $25,000 yearly in another divorce settlement from Dr. Blake H. Watson. Testimony yesterday disclosed she was nearly broke.

'Peace' Tour . . .

Communist propagandists charged by the sponsors.

The council of the arts, sciences and professions, sponsors of the tour, hastily rescheduled last night's program. The order banning the Communists was issued less than 12 hours before the rally began.

Still on the playbill were delegations from countries outside the Soviet sphere of influence—Great Britain, Cuba, and French West Africa.

But gone from the list was the heralded star feature—Russian Composer Dmitri Shostakovich.

The audience of some 3,000 persons was told of the government action. The house lights were dimmed. Then single spot lights shone on the empty piano.

Later concert pianist Ray Levitt filled in for Shostakovich. She played a piece by George Gershwin and three short compositions by Shostakovich. He had been scheduled to play the second movement of his own fifth symphony.

About 40 pickets marched in orderly lines outside the auditorium. They represented the Catholic War Veterans and other veterans groups who protested the rally as Communist inspired.

Speakers at last night's rally generally attacked "war policies" of groups in the United States. They pleaded for peace. The speeches were often interrupted by applause. Only one dissenting "boo" was heard from the audience. There was no disorder.

Besides Lampell, the speaker was Guy Emery Shipler, editor of "The Churchman." Albert Kahn, author; Dr. Philip Morrison, atomic scientist; and English psychologist William Olaf Stapledon.

Horse Rooms Are Closed

Washington, March 30 (AP)—All horse race wire services within a 20-mile radius of Washington were cut off yesterday as officials closed down on the bookmaking business in the nation's capital.

Twenty-six telephones and two-wire services are involved. Press association wires furnishing racing news to newspapers and radio stations are not affected. This move was one of a series sparked by District Attorney George Morrissey's effort to choke off gambling in Washington. The drive started last Friday and has resulted in scores of arrests.

Metropolitan Reports to Policyholders on 1948 Business

HERE IS THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for last year. It is more than just figures, because back of them is the story of what 32,700,000 policyholders have done for their families and themselves.

The role of Metropolitan, like that of any life insurance company, has been to help policyholders to make effective their individual plans for protection against the uncertainties of life. This Statement is a brief account of its stewardship.

The amount paid to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1948 was $721,366,364. Of this sum, $263,780,754 went to the beneficiaries of 235,000 policyholders; $147,045,672 to some 450,000 individuals for Matured Endowments and Annuities; and $59,403,238 for 650,000 claims for Disability and Accident & Health benefits. In addition, the total paid included sums for cash surrender values, dividends, and other payments due under outstanding policies.

The total payments by Metropolitan to policyholders and beneficiaries during the last 16 years aggregated $9,346,330,825—a sum which has served as a stabilizing influence in homes and communities throughout the country. This total exceeds the Company's assets of $9,125,145,007 as of December 31, 1948.

These assets are held to meet obligations of $8,591,210,201, of which more than 90% represents statutory reserves for future payments to policyholders and beneficiaries. Over and above these obligations, there remained a surplus of $533,934,806, which is about 6% of obligations—a backlog which must be available against the possibility of epidemics, adverse economic conditions or other unforeseeable situations.

The Company's assets guarantee the fulfillment of the $39,958,517,854 of Metropolitan life insurance in force. In addition, they assure the payment of the 448,394 annuity and supplementary contracts outstanding, and the 6,546,412 policies or certificates providing benefits in event of either accident, sickness, hospitalization, surgical or medical expense.

A few other highlights of the Company's 1948 annual statement are: the net rate of interest earned on total assets reversed the trend of many years and increased from 2.94% in 1947 to 3.03%; in line with the experience of business generally, there were some increases in expenses; the rate of mortality was slightly lower than in 1947; the lapse rate was one of the best on record; and new life insurance issued during the year was $2,904,577,071. The amount held for dividends payable to Metropolitan policyholders in 1949 totals $152,067,254.

Metropolitan investments continued in 1948 to serve various sections of the nation and its economy. The Company is interested in making loans, irrespective of size, to either individuals or corporations, which meet the legal requirements with which it must comply.

A more complete review of the Company's affairs will be found in its Annual Report to Policyholders, which will be sent to anyone on request.

Juvenile Delinquency Still Declining

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Mr. Johnson, awning specialist, of Ferry street, called my attention to a splendid article on "City of Kingston" in the "Marine News Magazine" dated November 1946 and written by Donald C. Ringwald of 93 W. O'Reilly street, who is a member of the Steamboat Historical Society of America. This complete detailed feature article with its many authentic photographs of our Rondout docks covers the famous steamboat which sailed "Down to Rio" and through the Straits of Magellan into the Pacific and even up to Alaska, back in the 1890's.

The "City of Kingston" steamboat was designed for the Cornell Steamboat Co. to replace the sidewheeler "Thomas Cornell," which had been wrecked at Danskinne Point on March 27, 1882. The City of Kingston was built, including the machinery, by Harlan & Hollingsworth Co. at Wilmington, Del. She was launched March 11, 1884. Her hull was iron, gross tonnage 1,117.40 with a steamer's average speed of 19 miles per hour. She carried sleeping accommodations for 250 passengers. Her dining room accommodated 76.

One could say she was a luxury liner of those days, with carpeted floors, jolting in crimson silk plush, cherry wood and a grand staircase of polished mahogany and cherry with a double hand rail leading to the salon. The rooms were covered with Brussels carpet, decorated in cherry. They had small mirrors, wash basins, ornamented in pink and gold, filled from pitchers and drained into zinc tanks.

There was also the "Private Parlor" and the "Bridal Chamber," which instead of berths had brass bedsteads. Each door had round glass windows and upper half monogrammed "CK" with a glass transom above. A grand electric chandelier hung in the main salon, with five chandeliers elsewhere. The salon covered with red Wilton carpet and 12

Juvenile delinquency is still on the down grade from the war years, according to the FBI's annual crime report, which shows that the number of persons under 25 years of age arrested in 1948 is lower than in 1947. Chart above, prepared from FBI data, plots the number of arrests of all persons under 25 over a ten-year period. Approximately one-half of all crimes against property last year were committed by persons in this group, with burglary and theft the leading crimes.

large double chairs upholstered in crimson silk and many other luxurious lounge chairs. French plate bevelled glass mirrors in mahogany metal frames decorated the walls. Heat was supplied by marble-topped steam radiators.

The "CK" was painted all white except where natural trim was used, and her single stack was black. A reporter from the "N. Y. Herald" on seeing her wrote: "A strange craft whose outline of beauty attracted much attention. It was a propeller, and evidently intended for still water navigation, but the portion of the hull above water curved and shaped with a care which indicated that an artist had designed her." The "CK" started her 15 years of life on her maiden voyage up the Hudson on May 31, 1884, carrying guests but no freight and was met at the Cornell dock in Rondout by a large cheering crowd. (More on the "CK" in future column.)

Anti-Red Group Tries to Find Out About Countrymen

Berlin, March 30 (AP)—"Silence is suicide" is the slogan of the anti-Communist fighting group against inhumanity founded last fall in western Berlin.

The group claims that shortly after the war ended, the Russians arrested more Germans than the concentration camps built by the Nazis could hold. It is now trying to find out what happened to these people.

Its leader is 34-year-old Dr. Rainer Hildebrandt, a former prisoner of the Nazi Gestapo. He was arrested during the war on grounds of underground activity against the Nazi regime and spent 17 months in jail.

That is one of the reasons why Dr. Hildebrandt set up the "fighting group against inhumanity."

"I know what it means to be a political prisoner," he says.

Under the slogan "Silence is Suicide," he arranged several rallies in Berlin last fall at which refugees from Russian concentration camps related their experiences.

"It wasn't so easy to find former prisoners who were willing to speak in public," Dr. Hildebrandt says. Not even western Berlin is a safe refuge for anti-Communists from the Russian zone.

The Russian Secret Police has a long arm and kidnappings of anti-Communists from western Berlin are frequent news in Berlin papers.

Dr. Hildebrandt at first had no intention of founding a "fighting group." But after he held his rallies, people came and asked him if he could find out what happened to relatives and friends arrested by the Russians.

Are Willing To Work

Other people said they were willing to work for him. Some made donations to get an organization started.

Dr. Hildebrandt now spends most of his time interviewing political refugees from the Russian zone.

If they are able to tell him something about the fate of fellow prisoners, it is put on file so their friends and relatives can be informed.

The "fighting group against inhumanity" receives an average of 100 inquiries a day, half of them by mail. Other people come in person.

The group has some 10,000 such inquiries on file now. They contain personal data of the presumed prisoners and a picture, if available.

These files are compared several times a week with information received from further concentration camp inmates. If one of the missing persons was seen by one of the refugees, the relatives are informed of his whereabouts.

Only 300 Answered

Of the 10,000 inquiries only 300 could be answered so far.

Precise information of the fate of about 6,000 political prisoners is on file. In most of these cases no relatives or friends could be informed, because it is unknown who and where they are.

Dr. Hildebrandt claims that shortly after the end of the war the Russian operated 16 concentration camps in their occupation zone.

One of the largest camps,

Sachsenhausen, is known as a "death camp" of Hitler's Gestapo.

An inmate of this camp under the Russians told Dr. Hildebrandt that he had been a member of the camp guard squad from summer 1945 until 1948. During these three years 12,000 prisoners died at Sachsenhausen, he asserted.

According to the "fighting group against inhumanity," only two of the 16 concentration camps are still in operation—Ruchenwald and Sachsenhausen.

"The Russians were able to close the others down," Dr. Hildebrandt explains, "because a great number of inmates died. About 40,000 were deported to Russia."

Can't Have Escalator

New York, March 29 (AP)—The State Public Service Commission today denied a petition for a hearing on a proposal to install an escalator to a new Long Island railroad station platform being built at Rockville Center. The new platform is being constructed in connection with elimination of grade crossings in the village.

Mayo W. Harry Lister of Rockville Center presented the petition. The commission ruled that inclusion of an escalator would require a major change in the plans "and thereby delay the progress of the work."

The girls at West Park, ranging in age from four years to 16 years, are mostly children from broken homes. In addition to a complete elementary grade course, recreational, athletic and home-making activities play a large part in starting these children on the road to becoming future self-sufficient citizens. The establishment is staffed by 24 nuns and several lay teachers.

The various civic organizations in the nearby towns come in for much praise from the Sisters. Outings and trips to the movies are planned by the Elks, the Hibernians and the Catholic Daughters for the children. Recently the Elks donated a ping pong table for the gymnasium. In addition the home has its own movie projector machine.

Jersey Senate Approves $159,532,397 Budget

Trenton, N. J., March 30 (AP)—The New Jersey Senate early today approved a $159,532,397 state budget for the 1949-50 fiscal year and a $1,967,710 supplemental appropriation covering deficiencies in current accounts.

Approval came, however, after a 40-minute attack on "the governor's budget" by Democratic Senator Robert B. Meyner of Warren county. He charged that Republican Governor Driscoll and not the Legislature was responsible for increases in the original budget recommendation.

Extending the Monday session into today's early hours, Meyner asserted that "on no major alteration was there anything done in the Joint Legislative Appropriations Committee until the governor had been duly consulted." The $159,532,397 figured is approximately $2,410,000 more than the current budget. It is also some $436,887 more than Driscoll's recommended total of $159,045,511.

An increase of approximately $309,000 over Driscoll's recommendation for deficiency appropriation was embodied in the supplement.

Despite his outspoken criticism of budget items, Meyner voted for the general appropriations and supplemental bills with the remark that "the state must continue to operate."

No dissenting vote was cast against either of the bills.

Dutch Ready to Talk On Indonesia Peace

The Hague, March 30 (AP)—The Dutch Government announced today its readiness to meet with Indonesian Republicans in an effort to lay the groundwork for peace in Indonesia.

The government made the conditions that the discussions must be in Indonesia, without prejudice to the rights or positions of either side.

Its terse announcement emphasized this meant Dutch responsibility for freedom and order in Indonesia would not be prejudiced by agreeing to the meeting. It said nothing specifically of the rights or position of the Indonesian Republicans.

The United Nations Security Council in a resolution adopted March 23 instructed the U.N. Commission on Indonesia to attempt to arrange a meeting of representatives of the Netherlands and of the Republicans to work out plans for making effective the Council's order of Jan. 28. The January order had instructed the Dutch to grant self rule to all Indonesia and to restore the Republican regime to power.

Dutch troops last December seized leaders of the Indonesian Republic, and overran the areas of Java, Sumatra and Madura which those leaders had proclaimed a free and independent state, and the republicans have refused to negotiate in any other capacity. The March 24 security council resolution was intended to bring them together in an effort to resolve this deadlock.

The Dutch have refused to negotiate with the republicans as representatives of an independent state, and the republicans have refused to negotiate in any other capacity. The March 24 security council resolution was intended to bring them together in an effort to resolve this deadlock.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—U. S. Senator Robert F. Wagner (D-N. Y.) will resign his post within 10 weeks, the Syracuse Herald-Journal said it was informed today by a close friend and political associate of the veteran legislator.

Gains and losses were thoroughly scrambled. Gains showed a slight edge for a while and even small improvement was enough to lift some issues to the best prices of the year.

Today was the market's first experience with the new margin requirement of 50 per cent cash. The news of the reduction from 75 per cent circulated throughout the country yesterday and sparked one of the largest overall advances in the past year.

Higher were Republic Steel, Woolworth, Firestone, International Harvester, Boeing, Schenck, Pepco, Consolidated Edison, American Smelting, DuPont, Johns-Manville, Radio Corp., Santa Fe, N. Y., Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, Nickel Plate, Superior Oil of California, and Loew's.

On the minus side were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Natural Gas, International Nickel, American Can, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, Illinois Central, Standard Oil (N. J.), Houston Oil, and Paramount Pictures.

Higher in the curb were Kaiser-Frazer, American Republics, Arkansas Natural Gas, Atlas Plywood, Bartram Steel, Burry Biscuit, Raytheon Mfg., Pantec, Oil, and Standard Power & Light. Trimmed a little were American Light, Care, Consolidated Biscuit, Cities Service, Eastern Gas & Fuel, Electric Bond & Share, and United Light & Railways.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Casablanca motored up from Washington Heights Saturday to spend the week-end at their summer quarters in the Allen Ferreller cottage on the Trail. Smith projects.

Lukacs & Mason, leading maple syrup operators this season, terminated their activities along this line last week, and for a very good reason—the sap stopped running. It was the same old story of the past three years: Unseasonably warm weather and no frost in the ground. However, the two local men did succeed in making 15 gallons of choice early-run syrup, thus insuring Camp Temerado plenty of pancake lubricant, maple butter for hot biscuits, and sugar for the camp kiddies.

Callers in the village center Saturday included Mrs. George Schaeffer of Kingston who was en route to Samsonville to spend the week-end with her sister, Miss Ethel Shurtler. Mrs. Schaeffer is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Shurtler, upper Samsonville road farmers.

Roth Co., New York at 22.62 cents to 22.91 cents a pair.

Amarillo, Tex., March 29 (AP)—A fleeing thief ran right out of his shoes here today. Two men walked boldly into a railroad station. They snatched a nurse from Mrs. Ala Culberson and hot-footed it out of the station. Pursuing police almost stumbled over their only clue—a worn brown pair of number tens. They figured the purse snatchers must have been trying to throw them off the scent.

Today everybody is talking about psychiatry and being psychoanalyzed. I had an interesting talk recently with Dr. William G. Niedland, staff physician at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York city.

He is the author of a recent book, "Man-Made Plague," a primer on neurosis, published by Tenby House, New York. Dr. Niedland has the distinction of having three medical degrees to his credit, one in Germany, one in Italy and one in the state of New York.

He has written two other books on psychology, but "Man-Made Plague" is the first he written for the layman. When I looked through it, I was impressed with the statement that people must learn the joy of living and relaxing. He points out that many people are more tense and taut than ever when playing bridge, and therefore they do not get the joy of relaxation out of the game.

If you pick up a hand that breaks badly, as today's hand did, do you become nervous? Sit back and enjoy the game anyway, and maybe you will find a way to make the contract.

West held the opening lead with the queen of clubs and continued with the jack, which declarer ruffed with the three of hearts. Then he laid down the ace of hearts, and learned the bad news. But he did not become discouraged.

He led the jack of diamonds to dummy's queen, ruffed dummy's last club, cashed the ace and king of diamonds and king of hearts. Then he threw West in the lead with a trump. This allowed declarer to make two spade tricks and gave him his contract.

Prospects Good For Eliminating TB in 20 Years

The prospect of nearly eliminating tuberculosis within the next 20 years is promising, executive secretaries of tuberculosis and health associations in this area were told at a conference held this week at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The statement was made by Robert W. Osborn, executive secretary of the state committee on tuberculosis during the opening dinner Monday night. He said that the upstate death rate in 1948 was 25.4 per 100,000 population, the lowest yet on record.

Osborn spoke to about 20 health workers from Ulster, Columbia, Rensselaer, Putnam, Delaware and Sullivan counties and from the city of Newburgh.

The conference continued all day Tuesday. It is one of a series of conferences throughout the state to plan programs for the coming year in fields of tuberculosis eradication, venereal disease control and public health education in cooperation with official agencies.

Miss Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, reported on work being done in this area.

Delegates were urged to support a constitutional amendment next election which would permit

New York city to bond itself for $1,000,000 for hospital rehabilitation. They were told that this amendment would not cost upstate taxpayers anything, but is required by state law before New York city can increase its indebtedness for the stated purpose.

Accompanying Osborn from the state committee was Nelson Kraemer, director of the nationwide Christmas Seal Sale, and Mrs. Marie W. Anderson, state sale director. Also present was William Bentz, former assistant to the Ulster county association who is now working with the state committee.

Paris, March 30 (AP)—Marshall Plan authorities announced today they had meted out 95 per cent of the $4,800,000,000 allotted to their first year of work. The European Recovery Program will be a year old Sunday. In the first 11 months of E.R.P. operations, they said, the European Cooperation Administration had authorized the 19 areas receiving aid to spend $4,566,700,000. The authorizations approved in February totaled $273,100,000.

Ministers Arrive

would be a sudden attack, the bully, bespectacled foreign secretary shook his head and replied:

"No, we are not expecting any sudden attack."

He said, however, that it would be insufficient "just to sit back" and expect everything to turn out all right.

The pact, he said, "needs implementation."

The remark appeared to be an obvious reference to the western European nations' request for arms from America.

Pressed harder by reporters on his views of any attack on western Europe, Bevin said:

"No, we're not expecting an ultimate attack. But we can't tell what lies in the future."

Asked if he talked to Gromyko during the ship's calm Atlantic crossing, Bevin brought laughter with this reply:

"I never disturb the ship and cause any danger!"

The shouting pickets across the street from the pier did not disturb him.

"I used to picket myself," he said.

Enthusiastic Endorsement

Enthusiastic endorsement of the pact was voiced earlier by the Foreign Ministers Spaak, Strickler and Bech.

Spaak said he found the pact entirely within the framework of the United Nations and that it
"strengthens the U.N."

"I'm convinced," he declared,
"that since the end of the war and the organization of the United Nations the Atlantic Pact is the world's most important step toward collective security."

When a reporter asked if he believed Russia would agree that now,

Assembly Approves Business Rent Bill

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—
Extension of New York city's commercial and business rent control laws until July 1, 1950 was approved unanimously today by the Assembly.

The rent control-included legislature is expected to give final approval to the enacting measures later today.

A big feature of "Spring-on-Parade" will be a misprinted article contest. All stores in all parts of Kingston have been invited to participate. They have until Saturday of this week to enter and register the articles they will exchange at the Chamber of Commerce office. Complete details of the contest, open to the public, will be announced next week.

Matthew Morgan, chairman of the special committee in charge said today that 22 cash prizes will be offered. He suggested watching for the announcements next week, but invited everybody to visit the Kingston stores new to see the new spring offerings.

A spokesman for the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce stated that the "Spring-on-Parade" project is the first part of a year-round program to prove that Kingston is a good place to shop. They recognize the importance of all persons living within 25 miles or more of Kingston, to the economic life of the city. They want to show that all merchants are ready to give the best values and service to all persons doing business in Kingston.

The building is expected to be from 100 to 125 feet in depth.

Small Supplemental

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—
The Legislature today approved a supplemental state budget of $29,919, smallest in recent years.
The Assembly gave unanimous approval a short time after the Senate passed the supplemental bill by a 51 to 1 vote. The supplemental appropriations bring the state's budget total for the fiscal year beginning Friday to $937, 702,971, highest in history. This compares with $812,000,000 for 1948-49.

'DUTCH THREAT'

The following problem is shared by many: "There is always such a to-do about settling the check when a group of us go Dutch.
And everything is on one check. It really is a nuisance and sometimes even embarrassing to the wives. Is there no way a Dutch Treat can be arranged to avoid this last-minute subterfuge and addition of a sizeable bill?"

If they go to a table d'hôte meal it is simple enough to divide the bill according to the number of persons. But in an à la carte restaurant, when one individual orders 50 cents worth of food and another individual orders 85 worth of food, it certainly is unfair to add up the total and divide it by the number of diners. In this case the latter should ask for a separate check. What to do other than expect this consideration on the part of a gourmet, I don't know.

Speaking To Strange Man

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong to speak to a man whom I have not been introduced to? See him alone in church almost every Sunday and I'd like to speak to him because I am alone too and I know it's not a happy situation. But may a woman speak to a man who is a fellow churchgoer without being introduced?

Answer: Since you both go to the same church, and you see him regularly, you might say good morning to him as you leave church. A week later you might venture on the weather: "It's a lovely morning, isn't it?" or "Dr.
B.'s sermon was so inspiring!"
What to say next—if anything—depends upon what and how he answers you. Probably the best plan is to tell "Dr. B." about him and suggest that he introduce him to you.

Don't Take Uninvited Guest

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever permissible to take an uninvited guest with one to a friend's house when invited to dinner?

Answer: Practically NEVER.
That is, never, except in the rare instance—almost unknown in the present day—when a big family customarily sets places for two or three extras at the end of the table, could it be proper to take anyone along when invited to dinner without telephoning the hostess beforehand and receiving her permission.

Leaving food on the plate is one of the problems in table manners which is discussed by Mrs. Post in her new leaflet, E-19, "Mistakes Made in the Name of Etiquette."
To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman,

Would Be Illegal

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)— Possession of wire tapping equipment would be illegal under provisions of a bill passed unanimously by the Assembly today.
The measure, sponsored by New York city's Mayor William O'Dwyer, went to the Senate for expected quick approval. The proposal would make it a misdemeanor for a person to possess apparatus for intercepting telephone conversations with apparent intent to use the recordings.
The accused person would be guilty of a felony if he previously had been convicted of a crime. In requesting such a law O'Dwyer contended he had been the victim of an attempt to tap his telephone offices.

Will Hit Black Market

Washington, March 30 (AP)—
Capitol Hill will hear predictions today that the new rent control extender will set off a government crackdown in a rent "black market." President Truman was expected to sign, in plenty of time, the "home rule" legislation—that continues rent controls for another 15 months. Just two days before the present controls are set to die at midnight Thursday, Congress late yesterday tossed the new compromise bill to the White House by overwhelming votes.

Coup Is Bloodless

Damascus, Syria, March 30 (AP)—
The Syrian Army seized power in Syria's capital today, arresting government leaders in a bloodless revolt at dawn. Brig. Hosni El Zaim, commander of the Syrian Army, said the military coup was ordered because of "attacks against the army, inside as well as outside the House of Representatives."

Retirement Approved

Washington, March 30 (AP)—
President Truman approved today the retirement of Admiral DeWitt Clinton Ramsey, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Pacific Fleet, effective May 1. Admiral Ramsey also is high commissioner of the trust territory in the Pacific Islands.

Pact Is Approved

Reykjavik, Iceland, March 30 (AP)— Iceland's Althing (parliament) today approved this strategic island republic's membership in the North Atlantic Pact. The vote to join in the alliance was 37 to 13.

Mitchum Is Released

marijuana.

Rabies Reported In Peekamoos

One definite and one possible case of rabies have been reported in Ulster county, according to the Rabies Advisory Council. To date nine rabid animals have been found in the county.

A fox shot in the Peekamoos section of the Town of Denning was suffering from the disease. It was announced in a report from the Division of Laboratories and Research, Albany.

Dr. Gilbert H. Hoppenstedt, county public health veterinarian, said that a preliminary report on another fox head sent to the laboratories March 12, is highly suspicious of rabies.

The fox shot in Denning fought with a dog on the lawn of Henry Turkish. It was shot after the skirmish. The dog, which had been immunized against rabies, is now confined on the owner's property for observation.

Locality of the other scuffle between a dog and fox took place in the Spring street section of Ellenville.

Dr. Hoppenstedt said that

"rabies which reached Ulster county from Sullivan last year, has now fanned out through the Town of Wawarsing and Denning and has reached the trap line."

The trap line runs through Hardenburgh, the northern section of Denning, the central section of Rochester and then southernly to Walden Valley section of Shawangunk.

In Cardiff, Wales, there still stands a castle believed to be identified with the legends of King Arthur. Construction of the castle began in 1090.

Old Violin Secrets Found

Rome (AP)—A 35-year-old ex-soldier who started making violins as a pastime while he was a prisoner of war in Africa thinks he may have rediscovered some of the lost secrets of Italy's greatest craftsmen of the past. At any rate, the instruments that Franco Ponza has been turning out in his tiny shop on Rome's Aventine Hill are increasingly in demand among professional musicians.

Mad Hatter Dance Set for Friday In Bloomington

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bloomington Fire Department promises an even madder, gayer and more hilarious time for its second annual Mad Hatter Dance Friday night than was planned for the original event. Barringer's Rag Time Band will provide the music starting promptly at 8:30 p. m. at the fire department hall.

Prizes await those people who combine skill, daring and humor in creating a costume outstanding in beauty or outrageously funny. Men are invited to take a special part in these festivities. Their hats will be judged separately from the women's. The auxiliary announces a formal date for the men to come Friday night with their best millinery creations of lace, frills, buttons and bows. Refreshments, cake sales and novelty dances are planned for entertainment.

Mrs. Adolf Sterbenz heads the dance committee. Her assistants are the Misses Raymond LeFever, Frank McElvath, Robert Levitan, William Kelder, George Moylan, Ernest Grafe and Miss Alice Hannawheber.

Footlighters Give

Comedy as Benefit For City's Library

Another venture of the Footlighters was found to be most praiseworthy and entertaining. Tuesday night at Kingston High School Auditorium, as Ulster county's little theatre group presented "Tommy," a comedy by Howard Lindsay and Bertrand Robinson. About 400 attended.

Houston Richards directed the production. Proceeds will go to the Kingston City Library.

The choice of the play was much better for the group and brought many humorous situations and laughs to the audience.

The plot concerned the Thurber family and their trials in finding the proper husband for the daughter. After much confusion and reverses, Tommy comes forth as the lucky suitor, the one everyone wanted Miss Thurber to marry anyway.

The little role was played by Robert Russell of Saugerties. His was the task of winning his girl by much maneuvering and changing of pace. If he pleased her parents, she shied away because she was tired of being bossed by mama and papa. If he made him self obnoxious to mama and papa, daughter also was displeased. Mr. Russell was splendid.

Another excellent bit of acting, perhaps the finest of the evening, was done by Ernest Ward as the uncle of Miss Thurber. He was the political boss of the town, not the blustering type, but a philosophical thinker whose theories proved to work in matters of the heart as well. His advice finally brought about the happy ending.

Also Lorine Swazy as the unsuccessful suitor, the fellow with the Packard car, a marriage license in his pocket, a musician and master of so many trades, was an outstanding contributor to the talent shown in the cast.

Miss Thurber was played by Olive Herdman in a sweet, unassuming manner. The parents with their much ado and humorous situations were Carlyn Gross and George Hard.

Houston Richards, the director for the group, appeared last evening for the role of Judge Wilson.

It was enjoyable to see him on a local stage. So many plays in Woodstock have been the more entertaining because of his part in the cast.

Mrs. Wilson, Peg Hard, appeared only a short time on stage but her shrill voice calling for son, Willie, was heard at many auspicious moments. Willie's voice was Jan Marasek, who many will remember as the lead in this year's senior class play at the high school.

The set was especially attractive with the bright turquoise walls, white wood work and colorful but harmonious appointments. All of the action took place in the Thurber's living room.

Credits for handling the backstage tasks go to Hildagard Swazy, properties; George Betis, business manager; William D. Hawk, production manager; George Hard, publicity; Gloria Mayone, stage manager; and Joseph Garland, electrician; and to all the members of The Footlighters whose endless hours of devotion to the theatre are necessary for each production.

The Lions Club sponsors the club. Credits for the production also go to the Woodstock Playhouse, William O'Keily, Inc. Governor Clinton Hotel, and to all the members of The Footlighters whose endless hours of devotion to the theatre are necessary for each production.

Novodgrosky and Stein High Scorers As Sullivan Aces Set All-Time High

Form paid off in the Y-Mid-Hudson Basketball Tournament last night when the Woodridge Atoms set an all-time scoring record in flattening the Stamford Legion, 100-41.

The Sullivan county sharpshooters, who are heavy favorites to win the crown, took command early and were front running 42-19 at halftime. They return Friday night against Chez Emile.

Woodridge's terrific scoring spurt featured a 28-point surge by Abe Novodgrosky and 27 markers for classy Jack Stein, one of the area's greatest players.

Previous high tournament totals were 85 points by Wiltwyk Motors and 83 by Pine Plains.

K.H.S.-N.F.A. Feud Resumes Friday In Hi-Y Contest

The game which will feature a strong flavor of DUSO rivals will be played for the benefit of the Newburgh Hi-Y's scholarship fund.

Kingston's starting five will feature Ronnie Scheffel, Mike Provenzano, Bud Scheffel, Jim Bloch and Dick Schulitz. Substitutes are Walt Hansen, Bob Levitan, John Mooney, Ralph DeMuello and Bob Strately.

Increase Weight Of A.B.C. Tenpins

Atlantic City, N. J., March 30 (AP)—An increase of ten ounces in the weight of pins has changed the complexion of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Elmer Baumgarten of Milwaukee, A.B.C. secretary, said the change in pins was made Monday.

What looked like one of the lowest scoring tournaments of the last two decades has now developed into what may be a free-for-all pin scramble in its final two weeks.

"It is my theory that good bowlers will score better with heavier pins," Baumgarten said in disclosing increase in the weight of the pins.

On Monday with the heavier pins, Bernard Busciglio of St. Bernard, Ohio, jumped into the singles lead with a 716 score. Howard Eakert, of Grand Rapids, Mich., with a relatively low 709 had led the singles since February 21.

Yesterday, Donald Van Boxel, Green Bay, Wis., and Gene Bernhardt, Sturgeon Bay, Wis., took over first place in the doubles with 1322. Charles Carnegie and Ed Montgomery, of Philadelphia, had held number one spot with 1306 since February 18.

In the early days of the tournament, the pins weighed three pounds two ounces or three ounces. Later, the weight was increased to three pounds, four ounces. They were increased Monday to three pounds, five ounces or ten ounces to the set.

Woodridge connected for 41 fields and had 18 fouls to astound skeptics who predicted the Y court would hamper their running style. L. Mirtalo and MacCracken scored 12 and 10 points respectively for Stamford.

Lee, the Hamden center, was high scorer with 22 points, while Newkirk accounted for 20. D. Schoonmaker led Potter's with 11, while Engel and Neilus had 10 each.

Lodi Keglers, Holders of US High Series 3495, in Kingston Saturday

Niemiec, 218 Man Heads Powerhouse

Al's Bowl-O-Drome of Lodi, N. J., a 1084-average bowling squad that holds the current national scoring record of 3405 will meet Ferraro's Sharps Saturday night at the Bowldrome in a match that closes out the local exhibition season.

Top bowler of the New Jersey powerhouse is Stan Niemiec, anchor man who carries a 218 average and boasts the highest three game string rolled in the United States in sanctioned play this season, 805.

Al's tenpin wreckers set the national record of 3476 in January and then beat their own record in February when they pounded out games of 1097, 1199 and 1199 for 3495 in the Bergen Inter-Club League.

Niemiec Hits 218

The personnel of the squad and their individual averages include Frank Kosci 210, Pete Kovelski 208, Lakowitz 196, Ben Mulich 202 and Stan Niemiec 218.

The Bowl-O-Drome squad hit 2853 in the A.B.C. tournament in Atlantic City, while Niemiec posted an 1853 all-events total for one of the best marks in the meet.

Frogs Known Here

Captain of the squad is Frank Ross, veteran Jersey ace, who appeared here several years ago with the Smith Chevrolets of Paterson. He has one 300 to his credit and a high triple of 780. Pete Kovelski has a 300 and 813 all-time high. Mulich's top triple is 735. Niemiec's 805 was rolled in Hackensack and is in line for the gold medal award of the American Bowling Congress for the current calendar year.

In the earlier 3476 record, Ross posted 766, Kovelski 688, Mulich 554, Niemiec 645 and Sam Vitola 754.

Al's will be the third Jersey powerhouse to visit Kingston this season. The Sharps lost to Faber Cement Blocks and defeated the Marcal Products.

Boxer Critical After Coast Knockout

San Jose, Calif., March 30 (AP)—Billy Cornwall, 25-year-old lightweight fighter from Los Angeles and Dee Moines, knocked out last night, was unconscious and in critical condition today.

Cornwall, who weighs 138 pounds, was tagged with a straight right to the chin by Tote Martinez, also 138, of Stockton, in the ninth round of their scheduled 10-round bout.

Dropped by the blow, Cornwall struck his head on the mat with a thud which was heard throughout the auditorium. He was rushed to O'Connor Hospital here when he failed to revive and was pronounced in critical condition from brain concussion. He is being treated by Dr. Anthony Badami.

Four hours after the bout, the hospital reported he was still unconscious and in very critical condition.

Bowling

Having listened to his Freeman League cronies brag about their high scores during the noon day lunch session in the back room until it came up to here, Art Sheltight figured it was time to something about it.

Came Monday night and the press room's metallurgist made a shambles of the weekly tempo session on the X drives with a gaudy 529 triple.

After a 154 start, Sheltight racked up 166 and finished off with a towering 209. The nearest competitor was Nick Huber, 166 pins away with 463.

Continuing his late season spurge, Jack Hartman led the first round of the Independent League's post-season point system playoffs with a 609 series Monday night.

The Martin's Market anchor hammered out a string of 198, 202 and 185.

Other top performers were Jim Roe with 547; Roland Post 203; 543; Eddie Marks 544; Cliff Davis 547; Ed Trombley 566; and Orville "Pop" Van Alstyne 543.

George "Huck" Svirsky featured his now slow-burn to pile up a league leading 578 triple in the Good Neighbor League. The B'nai Brith anchor stacked games of 180, 176 and 222.

Sam Rosenthal was seven pins behind with 200-210-370. The 500 shooters also included George Goldfarb 543; Ben Sklon 542; Dr. Saul Goldfarb 537; Irv Adler 526; Larry Orcokoff 520; J. Melton 514; Ben Orcokoff 200-507; Jack Singer 505.

Since his elevation to leadoff for Jack's Rest, Ray Roux has become a man of distinction in the City League.

Monday night Ray paced an abbreviated session with 589 on games of 181, 166 and 222. Dick "The Spoiler" Howard was runner-up with 168-200-214-582.

Jack's Rest and Colonials, two permanent contenders, absorbed double bookings, while Jones Dairi was idle.

Other good scores were Tommy Amato 211-580; Harry Smith 206-576; Earl Sleight 216-563; Irv Award 203-561; Harold Brookie 208-553; K. Williams 544; F. Russano 537; A. Gerlak 206-535.

Dick's 516 triple set the pace in the Church Federation circuit last night, the First Dutch ace clicking for scores of 154, 192 and 170.

No other bowler reached five-hundred. Jack Haulenbeck posted 499; E. Kittie 484; J. Rider 480; Frank Behr 479; Stan Hankinson 495; A. Schultz 485; D. Wood 477; and Ray Otto 479.

Ted Gile, Jr., who doesn't bask in the rarified ozone of league triples too often, had Central Rec League honors all to himself last night at the Centrals.

With a 239 cushion, Gile fired games of 175 and 196 for a 610 score, one of the best of his career and tops for the night.

Other high scores were Ed Cunningham's 547; Norm Sande 208-559; Steve Fassbender 212-558; Pete Schline 223-596; Carl Beatty 578; Lou Bruhn 555; Roy Webber 548; Larry Jacobs 547.

Ray Amell waited until the last night of official play in the Booster League to set a new high single record of 255. He then followed with 161 and 152 for 568, one of the top triples of the season.

The final session produced average scoring for the Bowldrome circuit. F. Colao shot 458; Joe Kwasney 525; Milt Dubin 509; Jim Cave, new city all-events champion, 511; A. Cross 462; Ted Lyon 465; D. McConnell 465; Don Beany 466; G. Burger 467 and F. Ellsworth 462.

When You "Close Up" Tonight...

ARE YOUR VALUABLE PAPERS REALLY SAFE?

It's something to think about.

Your building may be fireproof, but not so the contents of your store or office.

Vital records, cash, accounts receivable can be wiped out by fire while you sleep. It's a sad fact that 4 out of 10 firms whose records burn go out of business!

A safe can protect you. But not just any safe. Every business—and every home, too—needs a modern, certified safe—one which has passed the fire, impact and explosion tests of the Underwriters' Laboratories.

That's what you get in a modern Horning-Hall-Marvin safe. There's a style and a size for every requirement, and the cost is less than you think.
